COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 17.

THE 3 per cent. Indian Sterling Loan comes ¼ lower, as also 4 per cent. Rupee Paper, but Consols remain at 100¼ and French Rentes at 115¼. Oriental and Chartered Mercantile Bank shares are both 10s. higher.

Linseed still comes steadily, and in Cocoanut-oil there is an advance of 5s. to 10s. per ton. Other articles of general produce are unchanged.

Cotton yesterday was quiet but steady, the day's sales in Liverpool being 10,000 bales; but to-day the tone is given as firm, sales 12,000 bales. Spot prices are unchanged, but arrivals are 1-32d. better. In New York ready Mid-Uplands are still at 12 3-16 cents, but September shipments advanced yesterday to 11·98 and to-day to 12·01 cents. per lb.

We subjoin our usual weekly comparison of the statistical position of the staple. Since the previous Friday the total visible supply has decreased by 60,000 bales, and the stock in Liverpool by 31,000 bales. The figures are now working very closely on a level with last year in all except Americans, of which the supply is in very small compass, and it will be surprising if no attempt for a "corner" is started during the autumn.

The American Crop figures to date compare with the two previous years as follows :—

	1882	1881	1880
Week's receipts	10,000	28,000	20,000
" Exports to U. K.	24,000	27,000	15,000
" " to Continent	8,000	12,000	18,000
Total receipts since 1st Sept.	4,514,000	5,580,400	4,814,100
" Exports to U.K. "	2,131,700	2,550,900	2,331,000
" to Cont. "	1,155,100	1,683,700	1,238,900
" Stock at the ports	401,000	403,000	328,000
Saturday's Receipts	2,000	2,700	3,600

The total visible supply of Cotton for all Europe on the 16th instant affords the following comparisons :—

	1882.	1881.	1880.
Total supply of all kinds	2,500,000	2,583,000	2,197,270
Do. do. Surats	924,000	565,510	575,600
For the U. K. only the figures are :—
Stock in Liverpool	967,000	906,130	764,270
" London	67,000	50,200	55,830
American Afloat	70,000	133,000	201,000
East Indian "	227,000	102,000	154,000
	1,331,000	1,191,420	1,175,100
Price of Mid.-Uplands	6¼d.	6¼d.	6 13-16d.
Do. Fair Dholleras	4 5-16	4¼	4 15-16

EXCHANGE has been extremely quiet during the day, with no quotable alteration in rates. Only a limited business has been done, and that mostly in Bank bills for future delivery. The drop in Bar Silver to 51 15-16d. per oz. will probably further depress rates on Monday, and we adhere to our previously expressed idea that 1s. 7¾d. for demand Bank Bills is not a very distant possibility. We quote :—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7 31-32d.	per rupee
Do. Telegraphic	1s. 7 15-16d.	"
Do. 4 months' sight	1s. 7 1-8d.	"
Credits 3 " "	1s. 8 5-32d.	"
Francs 3 " "	2·12½	"

On Calcutta we quote demand at 3-32 premium, 60 days' sight at 7-16 discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER is dull, with few buyers. Fours are still quoted at Rs. 102½, but Fours-and-a-half have receded to Rs. 108½.

SHARES are very firm all round, but more especially Spinning and Weaving Mills, which are Rs. 10 to Rs. 25 higher in almost every instance. Press shares, too, keep very firm and in some cases dearer.

COTTON is very firm, but there is no new business passing, the absence of supplies of good quality preventing buyers from operating.

SEEDS and WHEAT are dull at previous values.

FREIGHTS have undergone no change, 22s. 6d. being still quoted for Liverpool vid Canal. There is, however, some inquiry for steamers forward, which owners show no signs of meeting.

PIECE-GOODS are steady, with a growing improvement in the demand.

COALS are quiet, but very firm.

MONDAY, JUNE 19, 1882.

WE have already commented on the political advantages likely to be derived from the British occupation of North Borneo. The extension of British enterprise to this district being now an accomplished fact, we are enabled to study the undertaking, in its practical and commercial aspect, by the issue of the prospectus of the Company which has obtained the concession. It will hardly be disputed that the glowing descriptions of national benefits likely to accrue from our position at Sabah, as this new British province is termed, have to a large extent been made to stand sponsors for the commercial advantages of the undertaking. And yet the two matters are radically distinct. All that we have heard respecting the geographical position occupied by North Borneo in the China seas might, and would, be excellent reasons for the British Government taking possession of it, but they afford relatively small data for arriving at a conclusion as to the monetary advantages to be derived by any company governing the province as a commercial speculation. It is, perhaps, not too much to say that the commercial worth of a position is oftener than otherwise in inverse ratio to its strategical value. There is, however, no absolute reason why this should be so, and, however frequently our military stations are profitless from an administrative point of view, we have no right to assume that Sabah is not an exception to a pretty general rule. We have seen numerous articles in periodicals giving more or less elaborate details as to the natural wealth of Bornean soil, and to the comparative salubriousness of its climate. These have mostly been written by gentlemen possessing special knowledge of the country, and as their accounts are generally unanimous, we are justified, in the absence of any statements to the contrary, in assuming that the island is as rich and as healthy as it is said to be. Neither have we any reason to doubt that with settled and orderly government fresh life would be infused into the province, that industries would flourish, and that the population would become as numerous and as prosperous as those of Java, or Sarawuk, where the people have enjoyed a more equitable rule than has hitherto fallen to the lot of the unfortunate inhabitants of Sabah.

While we have thus seen it established, beyond question, that Great Britain and North Borneo will benefit by the acquisition of the northern province by a British corporation, we have had no clear exposition of the extent of remuneration likely to be obtained by the Company, nor of the manner in which it is to be earned. When we refer to the prospectus of the directors for information on this head, we must, unless we accept the irrelevant statements on the political side of the question, rely largely on that "glamour of Eastern romance," which has been the ignis fatuus of innumerable speculators. We are not prepared to say that the shareholders will not receive adequate dividends on their investment : we simply desire to point out the absence of any positive information on this important point. And we think the public are fairly entitled to ask some explanation of the manner in which the directors propose to earn their profits. They are asked to embark in a speculation which is something more than commercial. Indeed we would be much mistaken if in course of time the commercial part of their operations be not found to be much less important than the political. Most of us will remember the formidable difficulties which arose, concerning the East India Company, from what Macaulay, in his speech on the subject, described as "the long and intimate union of the commercial and imperial characters in one body." It is a fact that administrative undertakings, especially when they amount to the organization of new territories, do not pay. Can we suppose that the Administrative Department of the British North Borneo Company is likely to prove more remunerative than—say—the corresponding department of the East India Company ? and if it is not, are the funds to make up the deficiency to be withdrawn from the commercial department, as they were in the case of the East India Company, to the general confusion of both ? These are matters which should be thoroughly cleared up, but about which the prospectus does not appear to have a single word to say. The directors, in fact, simply say "Give us your money ; we have got a rich province all to ourselves, and one way or another we will provide you with handsome dividends."

Possibly the investing public may be justified in confiding in the ability of Sir Rutherford Alcock and his colleagues. But the North Bornean Company is no mere trading venture, and therefore the public have a right to ascertain the process by which the Court of Directors mean to carry on their business. It would be hardly safe, we imagine, for the shareholders to comfort themselves with the belief that they are entering peacefully on a private estate which will be secured to them so long as they pay their rents and leave their neighbours alone. It is true that Mr. R. S. Gundry, in his article in the Contemporary, believes that "there seems little danger of our being entangled in Borneo in one of those colonial wars at which we have so often had occasion to chafe." But the writer only speaks of England and the Imperial Government. He does not venture to assert that the Company may not have full opportunity to utilise those military powers which have been conferred on it by the Sultans of Brunei and Sooloo. If the antecedents of the inhabitants of these regions do not belie their present dispositions, we should think that the Company will require to be armed at all points in order to combat the cupidity or turbulence of its savage neighbours. The rights of the Company are secured to it by a treaty with the Sultan of Sooloo, among other guarantees. But Mr. Gundry speaks of the quarrels between the Spaniards and the Sultan of Sooloo "culminating ever and anon in the imposition of fresh treaties, to be broken and repudiated directly pressure was withdrawn." The present concessions have been obtained by a promise to pay annual subsidies to the extent of over twelve thousand dollars to the Sultan of Sooloo, and the Sultan of Brunei, and his Heir Apparent, and Prime Minister. If any opinion is to be formed of his Majesty of Sooloo, for example, from his previous proceedings, we should imagine that he would be quite ready to revoke his concession, or any number of concessions, for a more valuable consideration ; and if the Sultan of Brunei were controlled by more honourable feelings, we have no guarantee that the Sultan, and the Heir Apparent and Prime Minister are the only persons whose influence among the Bornean population must be paid for. There may be, in Brunei as elsewhere, younger sons and collateral relatives of the royal house who would be very glad to raise disturbances in the hope of being bought off. Even if there were not these external menaces, there are internal sources of disorder that will throw responsibility, trouble, and expense on the Company's administrators. If we turn to the report of the Agent of the Provisional Association on his first taking possession, we may find indications of the difficulties which have to be encountered. He mentions the gratifying fact that the officers of the Association were everywhere welcomed by the natives, and continuing says : "The Indians of the foreshore, freed from their Sooloo oppressors, and consolidated, as far as their habits allow them, into a powerful body, offer to place 100 crosses at my disposal for any emergency." All these circumstances go to show that the new Company will require a comprehensive administration, with the costly adjuncts of an army and a fleet sufficient to maintain order at home, and repel aggression from abroad. It is not much to the point to enumerate the natural resources of Borneo, which are no doubt very great, unless we have some knowledge of how they are to be got at. Indian administrators would be able to tell the directors that a new state cannot be organised from a wild, lawless territory without a great expenditure of money, and in the absence of an immediate prospect of any return for the capital. The East India Company had the advantage of trading for many years in an organised country before it undertook the work of administration, and when it did, its political undertakings were acquired gradually, and were the assumption of the direction of administrative systems already existing, rather than the resettling and repopulating of an uncultivated country, desolated by the ravages of invaders, "intertribal fighting, poverty, and disease." As it was the returns to the shareholders of the East India Company, while it was still a trading company, were by no means equal to the vast political advantages which accrued to Great Britain on account of its Imperial policy. We do not think it throws any light on the commercial prospects of the Borneo Company to cite the growth of such Imperial dependencies as Hong Kong or the Straits Settlements. As for Sarawuk, we know that Sir James Brooke would only have been too glad to have parted with his sovereignty to Great Britain had she seen fit to accept his offer. We are not prepared to say that the Company may not be able to make its political department pay from the outset ; but the question is one upon which the public have a right to hear the views of the directors, and to be put in possession of the data upon which they may form an opinion.

THE Dutch have given a new example of the enviable self-command which enables them to subordinate their feelings as Christians to their interests as politicians and traders. During the fighting at Atchin a celebrated mosque was destroyed by the flames. The conquerers have, at a great outlay, rebuilt the structure on a scale of magnificence far beyond that of the former edifice, and they have recently opened it for the service of Allah with an imposing state ceremonial to which Mussulman chiefs and moulvies far and near throughout the Sumatran world have been invited. The political effect of this move has been very gratifying. A number of chiefs hitherto recalcitrant have tendered their submission. The moulvies, instead of thinking of a crescentade, are chaunting the praises of the Dutch, who build mosques in honour of the religion of Mahomet. It is curious how at all times the Hollanders have shown themselves so superior to prejudice in these matters when making their way amongst Oriental populations. In Japan, after the millions of the Portuguese converts had been either reconverted or put to the sword, and all Christians were placed under the ban of the empire, the representatives of Holland who came to trade, answered the fateful question, "Are you Christians ?" by the declaration, "No, we are Dutch." To prove that they were only Dutch, they consented to trample on the crucifix, and thus acquired a treaty right to trade with Japan which endured for centuries. It is to be hoped that their success in conciliating Mussulman prejudice in Atchin will have results equally durable. If Paris is worth a mass, as Henry IV. remarked—though M. Gambetta and M. Paul Bert appear to be of a different opinion—the pacification of Atchin is worth the cost of a new mosque.

THE NEW TRANSPORT DEPARTMENT SCHEME.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, JUNE 17.

The Englishman publishes the following details of the new Transport Department scheme prepared by Colonel Lowe. The scheme is to be adopted by the Government of India provisionally, pending the sanction of the Secretary of State for India. The Transport Department will become a branch of the Commissariat, and officers and subordinates will be allowed to exchange between the Supply and Transport branches of the Commissariat, provided they are considered qualified for the branch into which they seek to exchange, and are recommended by the Commissary-General. Officers and subordinates will be borne on separate lists of Supply and Transport, and promotion will go on each list, only all officers transferred from the Commissariat Department for the purpose of forming the Transport branch will have their places filled, and promotions will be made in their places. In the Supply branch, officers taken from regiments and temporarily employed, pending the sanction of the Secretary of State, will have their places filled up by temporary promotions and appointments to regiments. The officer at the head of the Transport branch will be called Deputy Commissary-General for Transport. The officer likely to be appointed is Colonel Lowe, of the 13th Bengal Lancers. He will be subordinate to the Commissary-General.

For the Bengal establishment there will be 1 Assistant Commissary-General for Transport on Rs. 600; 2 Deputy Assistant Commissary-Generals for Transport on Rs. 500; 2 Deputy Assistant Commissary-Generals for Transport on Rs. 400; 3 Sub-Assistant Commissary-Generals for Transport on Rs. 300; 2 Sub-Assistant Commissary-Generals for Transport on Rs. 200.

The establishment for Madras will be essentially the same as for Bengal.

Bombay will have 1 Assistant Commissary-General for Transport on Rs. 600; 1 Deputy Assistant Commissary-General for Transport on Rs. 400; 1 Sub-Assistant Commissary-General for Transport on Rs. 300; 1 Sub-Assistant Commissary-General for Transport on Rs. 200.

The subordinate establishment for Bengal will consist of one Deputy Assistant, five conductors, seven sub-conductors, and ten sergeants.

It is expected that the first appointments of officers will probably be for the Presidency of Bengal, and in that case the following officers are likely to be appointed:—Lieut.-Colonel C. Haytor, Madras Staff Corps, Assistant Commissary-General on Rs. 600; Lieutenant Colonel C. Pennington, 13th Bengal Lancers, and Major S. Beckett, Bengal Staff Corps, Deputy Assistant Commissary-Generals, on Rs. 500; Major D. J. Stewart, 3rd Native Infantry, and Major G. Shakespear, 11th Bengal Lancers, Deputy Assistant Commissary-Generals on Rs. 400; and three Sub-Assistants, Major E. Elliott, 3rd Bengal Cavalry, Captain C. Elliston, Bengal Staff Corps, and Captain T. Turnbull, 15th Bengal Cavalry.

The Government will maintain carriage equal to the conveyance of 22,580 maunds, and for this part pack and part draught carriage will be maintained. Five brigades will be equipped with halt regimental carriage from the above, the remainder being kept up in depôts which will be established at Allahabad, Mhow, Mean Mir, Peshawar, Jhelum, Agra, Shillong, Jacobabad, Poona, Secunderabad, Bangalore, and Madras. Of these depôts Shillong will have a coolie corps, and a subordinate department will be formed from volunteers for the Transport branch, and from men lately employed with the department in the field, and from British corps. The officer appointed to the best post in the Transport branch is a Madras Staff Corps man.

A NEW RAILWAY.

The Government of Bengal has adopted the project of a line of railway from Daudkandi through Comillah to Chittagong. The length of the line will only be 125 miles, and Daudkandi will be connected with Goalundo by a line of swift ferry steamers. Chittagong will then be brought within a few hours' journey of Calcutta.

MESS AND BAND FUNDS OF DISBANDED REGIMENTS.

It has also been decided that committees are to assemble under the general officers commanding divisions and districts in which the reduced regiments are located, to report on the manner in which it is proposed to distribute mess and band funds after paying off all liabilities.

INFORMATION has been received from the Port Officer, Karwar, that the buoy marking the Karwar rock (Gudsar sunv.), lying to the W. N. W. of Elephant island, has broken adrift and sunk. It will be impracticable to replace it during the present monsoon.

A CURIOUS accident happened to Lord William Beresford on Monday last, the Englishman states. Within a few minutes after drinking a cup of tea at chota hazree, he became suddenly seriously unwell. It is probable that something had accidentally fallen into the milk jug, but a rumour got abroad that an attempt had been made to poison Lord William. The patient is now completely convalescent.

A CORRESPONDENT telegraphs from Baroda:—The Viceroy has quashed the proceedings of the late Cantonment Magistrate, Dr. Atkins, in the case of the camp beef butchers.

A SPECIAL telegram from the Pioneer's London correspondent, dated June 14, states:—The landing of a Turkish contingent in Egypt has now been virtually settled, and England is discussing the final stages. To prevent a permanent occupation of the country, the Anglo-French Control will not be touched.

SURGEON-MAJOR HILL MACBETH has been transferred from Poona to Quetta.

A TELEGRAM from Rangoon, June 15, reports:—The Recorder on the revising side has directed the Magistrate to take the whole of the evidence submitted by the police for a case against Madden, and to commit him to the sessions on a charge of murder.

A COURT of inquiry, assembled at Rangoon to inquire into the circumstances attending the loss of the Italian barque Lucia C., has found that she foundered twenty miles from Krishna shoal owing to stress of weather. No blame was attributed to the captain, who, with twelve of his crew, was drowned. The only survivors were the boatswain and two seamen, who managed to cling to some of the floating planks, which they lashed together. After being tossed about for four days, they managed to get ashore, and they eventually reached a Burmese village, where they were given food and were kindly treated. Thence they journeyed to Rangoon, where at present they are undergoing treatment in hospital.

THE official summary of the North-West Provinces crop and weather report for the week ended on the 14th June states:—Some rain fell in nearly every district, varying from slight showers to 5·4 tenths. Kharif ploughing and sowing begun. The markets are well supplied, but prices are rising slightly. Cholera continues in Benares, Gorakhpur, Rae Bareli, and Partabgarh; has increased in Lucknow, and decreased in Allahabad and Fyzabad. Cattle-disease is prevalent in Kumaun; a few cases are reported from Allahabad and Jhansi.

WITH reference to the regiments chosen for disbandment in the Bombay Presidency, a correspondent writes to the Allahabad paper:—"The 6th Battalion Native Infantry is a regiment of such long standing that it is a pity it were reduced without some prior inquiry. It was one of Sir Charles Napier's Sinde regiments, and its drill and discipline during the last two years have been very favourably reported upon. Though not in Abyssinia, it lost more officers and men in the Okhamundal campaign than the British Army did in that bloodless war."

THE Pioneer:—"The military authorities, no doubt, had much difficulty in selecting native regiments for disbandment, but it is amusing to find an accusation brought against the Bombay Staff of having allowed social and domestic reasons to influence their decision. Yet a correspondent makes such an accusation, and supports his theory by stating that three out of the four local battalions ordered to be disbanded are the only regiments in the Western Presidency whose commandants are bachelors—old bachelors vowed to celibacy, it is to be presumed, and therefore of small account socially."

THE Egyptian Gazette, in congratulating Judge Scott on his appointment as Judge of the High Court of Bombay, expresses "the regret of the community at the prospect of losing one of its most valued members, who whether at the bar, on the bench, or in private life, had secured the friendship and consideration not only of his own countrymen, but also of the most prominent members of other colonies."

THE Madras Times gives prominence to a request from Major G. Sartorius of the Marine Battalion, Bombay "for information regarding Major Hilliard, who appears to have been in the service of a Native Prince in Southern India, and who left this country in 1876, it is supposed, on some kind of pension. He lived many years in the Madras Presidency, was married, and had eight children, the eldest of whom was named 'Nellie,' and is now 21 years old. In 1875 she had been sent to England very ill from a sunstroke. The family with whom she was placed went to Canada without giving her their address or putting her in communication with her parents. Hitherto she has been in nursery governess in Major Sartorius' family; but as the children are outgrowing the need of her care, she is very anxious to discover the whereabouts of her family. It may add to the kindly interest our readers are sure to feel in so sad a case to learn that Major Sartorius thinks her very good, lady-like, and good-looking, and from her guileless disposition much in need of her father's protection. Such information as any of our readers can give regarding Major Hilliard's present address should be sent to Major G. Sartorius, Marine Battalion, c. o. Messrs. W. Watson and Co., 28, Apollo-street, Fort, Bombay."

THE proposal that Government should assist in establishing an industrial school in Bombay is approved by the native papers generally. Native Opinion says:—"Founding an industrial school for the city is a better way to invest funds raised to perpetuate the memory of our benefactors than the erection of equestrian and other statues. We are glad efforts are being made to give the city such an institution, and we hope the endeavour will be crowned with success. The Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Memorial Committee have a sum of forty thousand rupees in their hands, and they have applied to Government for a like grant to be enabled to establish the said institution. We think Government ought not only to accord the funds prayed for, but create certain stipendiary scholarships to be attached to the institution for its initial success. The Agricultural Department has been resuscitated, and it is its province, we think, to see that the establishment of such schools in the Mofussil is one of the sure means of improving the implements of our husbandry. We do not want costly and, by the way, unsuitable implements. We want such as will both suit the circumstances of the agriculturists and the condition of agriculture. We hope the Committee is enabled to make a beginning at least." The Bombay Chronicle cites the example of the French Ecole Centrale des Arts et Manufactures to show what might be accomplished by a similar institution in Bombay.

THERE is evidently a belief in some quarters that the old system of purchasing boroughs is still in operation in England, and that all that is necessary to get "India represented in Parliament" is to get together a few thousands of pounds, "retain" a quantum sufficit of candidates, and buy them seats in the House. The Indian Spectator gravely says:—"A Calcutta contemporary, writing some time ago about the representation of India in Parliament, suggested that the best way would be to engage the services of young Englishmen; that there are hundreds of young men in England, possessing the requisite abilities, but not the means of entering Parliament; that these 'able' young men ought to be helped to a few seats in the Imperial Assembly by well-to-do natives, in order to watch and promote the interests of this country. This is, no doubt, a good idea, but it has a serious drawback. Wealthy native 'patriots' may supply these 'able' Englishmen with funds; but what about the necessary experience? It strikes us that without knowledge and experience, which could be best gathered by residence in this country, the abler the English advocate we have in Parliament the more dangerous he may prove! But what is the use of speculating without the money before us? If the money were forthcoming, we would suggest that men like Mr. Martin Wood and Mr. Robert Knight should be 'retained.'" This is delicious.

THE Bombay Guardian is concerned to find that "a very wrong impression is made upon the minds of many of the people of this country, by reports of outrages of various kinds, communicated by telegraph or by the weekly mail, as is evident from the remarks of the New Dispensation, to the effect that the morals of the masses of this country are superior to those of the masses in Europe and America." The Guardian explains that "what is overlooked is the fact that it is the exceptional not the habitual that finds public notice in the papers; and the more exceptional a thing is the more publicity does it receive. It is because the great majority of families get on happily together that so much notice is taken of elopements, divorce cases, and the like. It is owing to the fact that there is general security for life and property that crimes against person or property receive such marked attention. As a matter of fact there are, as compared with other countries, few murders in England. Another thing: a higher value is set upon the security and well-being of the individual in England than in this country. The Khonds the other day put to death some 200 Khultas, and scarcely any notice is taken of it. Crimes that receive the greatest attention in England are scarcely noticed here, even by the vernacular papers. It is the light that reveals the darkness in England."

THE Pioneer has devoted several columns of space to a consideration of "the probable character of the rains of 1882," on the basis of a comparison between the meteorological results obtained during the early part of the present year and the observations of previous years. The result arrived at is that "the present year, in some respects, resembles the year 1878, and in others differs considerably from it. It differs from it in that the general abnormal pressure variation is almost nil, whilst in 1878 there was a large positive variation. It agrees with it in the fact of moderate negative pressure variations for the great majority of the peninsula stations; and also in the existence of a belt of relatively high (pressure indicated by large positive pressure variations) running across the country near the head of the peninsula. It differs from that year in having the Himalayan mountain region (probably), and a narrowish belt of low country to its south, characterised by small negative pressure variations, or relatively diminished pressure. The general inference, therefore, appears to be that the rains will be of average strength for the whole of India; that they will be moderate to large excess over Southern India; that they will be normal or slightly in excess over Assam, the greater part of Bengal (East and North Bengal), and over and along the districts immediately to the south of the Himalayas, as far west as Rohilcund; but that there is a probability of considerable deficiency in Rajputana, and the adjacent or western districts of the North-Western Provinces, and perhaps also in the Punjab."

TEN missionaries recently left England on board the B. I. S. N. Co's steamer Quetta, bound for Zanzibar by way of Aden. These missionaries are accompanied by seventeen teachers and assistants, as well as by two African boys returning to East Africa after being educated in England.

A DISPUTE between the Cantonment Magistrate and the Civil Surgeon of Barrackpore has recently formed the subject of a special order by the Government of Bengal. A cow died in Barrackpore, and it being suspected that the animal had been poisoned, the Cantonment Magistrate ordered the Civil Surgeon to open the body of the cow and transmit the viscera to the Chemical Examiner. A correspondence ensued between the Magistrate and the Surgeon which found its way to the office of the Surgeon-General of Bengal, and eventually to the Bengal Government. The result is a Government order that "in future, in cases in which suspicion is entertained that cattle have been poisoned, the Magistrate of the district, or the Sub-Divisional Officer, as the case may be, will communicate with the Civil Surgeon or Civil Medical Officer, and having informed him the circumstances which gave rise to the suspicion, request him to superintend the removal and despatch of the viscera to the Chemical Examiner. A butcher should invariably be engaged to open the carcase on such occasions, and he will perform the work under the directions of the Medical Officer."

THE commandant of the Central London Rangers, or 22nd Middlesex Volunteers, has added a battery of Nordenfelt machine guns to the equipment of his corps; believing that such arms would greatly add to the efficiency of a volunteer battalion in repelling the invader. The working of the battery forms a regular part of the drill and field exercise of the corps, six men being attached to each gun.

THE Madrid correspondent of the Daily News says:—A Spanish Scobeleff has appeared whose ideas cause a profound sensation in military circles, and will be the topic of the day to-morrow when published. On account of the political eminence of this officer, El Globo, the usual organ of Senor Castelar in Madrid, had inserted a series of papers called "The Keys of the Straits of Gibraltar, by a Military Critic." These pointed out the best means to be adopted on both shores of the Straits in order to render the possession of Gibraltar useless in British hands. These were fortifications, entrenched camps, heavy ordnance, and torpedoes. The author of these articles, now republished in book form, submitted his volume to General Lopez Dominguez, nephew of Marshal Serrano, the most popular commander of the Liberal armies against the Carlists, the victor at Carthagena in 1874, and now a prominent leader of the advanced Liberals in Congress, and generally considered likely to be Minister of War after Marshal Campos when a change comes in the Cabinet. This officer introduces the book in an energetic preface, approving its contentions, and expressing his belief that the day will soon come when Spain, after completing her army organisation and increasing her navy and fortifications, may realise her national aspirations by the recovery of Gibraltar, the annexation of the coast and most of the dominions of Morocco, and by a confederation with Portugal, to command the Straits entirely.

CRICKET AT THE GYMKHANA.

THE cricket season at the Gymkhana was opened with much spirit on Saturday, when some thirty cricketing members turned out for a pick-up game. The sides were not evenly matched, so that the game lost some of its interest, but this was due to ignorance of the strength of some new members, whose worth can be more accurately gauged on another occasion. The Gymkhana promises to be strong in cricket this season. Two or three of last year's eleven, including Mr. Wyer, who has played so many seasons for Bombay, are absent, but there are some new acquisitions who promise to more than make up the loss. The opening game was distinguished chiefly by the capital batting form displayed by Campbell and Barton, who played innings of 36 and 28 respectively for the winning side, and by the puzzling bowling of Barton, who was credited with eight wickets for the small cost of fifteen runs. A special tent was pitched for the accommodation of ladies, and the Volunteers' band was in attendance, but only very few ladies honoured the occasion with their presence. Next Saturday, we believe, a match will be played—Eleven vs. next Sixteen. Saturday's score:—

THE "MODESTY" CASE.

A CORRESPONDENT writes to us as follows:—The Lucknow Court of Inquiry, after ten days more or less sitting, has closed. Among the many witnesses examined were General Cureton, C. B., who was senior Steward at the race meeting, Lieut. Colonel Wood, 10th Hussars, Colonel Hollis, 11th N. I., Mr. Anderson, Veterinary Surgeon, Major Nesbitt, 33rd Regiment (a Steward), and Lieutenant Rose, 10th Hussars (Honorary Secretary). All were subjected to a severe cross-examination by Dr Thorburn, or, in his absence, by his friend Dr. Davy. At first local feeling was very strong against Dr. Thorburn, and it is still supposed to be at Simla, on account of his being in the Beresford-Maitland case; but owing to the evidence of Major Nesbitt and Lieutenant Rose, in connexion with "Modesty," and some Calcutta Turf Club private correspondence, the feeling has changed. The former officer is said to have known the winner by the numbers when there were none, and to have described "Modesty" as a mare and a bay when he is a horse and a chesnut.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

JUNE 14.

DURING this season the weather in this district has, for the most part, been very hot, and since the commencement of the current month it has been unbearable. Between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. the thermometer generally ranged between 100° and 110°.

We have now been blessed with a slight shower of rain (say 50 cents), which has greatly cooled the atmosphere, and the thermometer has gone down to 90°. At present dark thick clouds are passing overhead from east to west, sprinkling a few drops now and then. I think we shall have more rain within a day or two.

Colonel Powlett, Resident of Marwar, who was here, has gone to Abu, and it is believed that he will not return before the end of July. State affairs are going on as smoothly as before. No new change has been made in the ministry. It is rumoured here that there will be some slight changes in the civil and criminal laws on the return of Col. Powlett.

Mr. Chuttar Bhooj Kulla, Assistant Secretary to H. H. the Maharajah of Jodhpur, has left this today. It is rumoured here that he has gone to inspect the Durbar State Railway line which has been built by H. H., and that this new line from Kharchee to Pali, will be opened on his return.

MILITARY ITEMS.

CAPTAIN H. F. LANE, of the 13th Hussars, who is in England on leave on medical certificate, has been seconded for employment in the Pay Department. This should give promotion to the oldest subaltern in the Army, Lieutenant P. K. Doyne, who entered the service 1868 in the 38th Foot and joined his present corps in 1874. He is over 34 years of age now, and unless promotion in the Regiment is pretty sharp, he will hardly obtain his majority before reaching the age of 40 years. There is still a vacant majority in the regiment.

MAJOR H. F. GREATWOOD of the 2nd Battalion East Surrey Regiment (late 70th), now quartered at Dinapur, has retired on retired pay with the honorary rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. Major Greatwood served in the New Zealand war of 1863-4-5 in the provinces of Taranaki and Waikato. He now retires at the early age of 41 years. The vacancy will be filled by Captain John King, at present seconded as Adjutant of the 3rd Surrey Rifle Volunteers, to which he was appointed in November, 1880. Should Captain King be seconded in his new grade, Captain F. H. Maturin will obtain his majority with 16½ years' service, nearly 13 of which he passed as a Subaltern.

THE Englishman writes:—The expense occasioned by the recent order regarding the change of colour of the summer clothing of the Army is not to fall upon the Government as would seem natural, but on the Canteen Funds of Corps. According to the regulations the credit of the Canteen Fund "is to be devoted to purposes tending to increase the happiness and comfort of the men and their families." The change of colour of the clothing surely has not been the wish of the soldier, nor will it ever be likely to increase the comfort and happiness of the men or their families; in fact, it will have rather the opposite effect. Consequently, the fund should not be called upon to meet this charge, a charge that will be an increasing one, for besides the cost of dyeing the clothing in the first instance there will be that of keeping it up to the proper colour, which means continual re-dyeing. The change of clothing has been ordered by the authorities for their own pleasure, and no expense should fall on the soldier or any fund raised by him for his own benefit.

LIEUT.-COLONEL CHARLES ELLISON BATES, who has been compelled to leave the service owing to illness contracted while actively employed during the first phase of the Afghan war, entered the service in April, 1856, and leaves it at the early age of 43 years. He has seen much active service, having served during the Mutiny, when, on the 7th June, 1857, he was dangerously wounded at Jalandar. He served in 1859 in Bandelkand; he next proceeded to China in 1860, and was present at all the engagements, including the capture of the Taku Forts and surrender of Pekin. He served on the Staff as a Brigade-Major during the Bhutan campaign in 1865; was with the Transport Train in Abyssinia, 1868; in 1871-72, during the Looshai expedition, he was Brigade-Major to the Chittagong column, when he received the thanks of the Governor-General in Council, which honour on two other occasions was also accorded him for civil and political services. He proceeded to the front at the outbreak of the late war, and it was whilst there employed he was struck down by the illness which has compelled him to retire.

THE following young officers are under orders for India as probationers for the Staff Corps:—Lieutenant A. T. Young, 2nd Battalion, Royal Sussex Regiment; Lieutenants H. J. Bremer and E. H. Bennet, 2nd Battalion, Loyal Munster Fusiliers; Lieutenant M. T. D. Travers, 1st Battalion, Royal Scots Fusiliers.

Major T. M. Maxwer, late 2nd Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment, has received permission to reside and draw his half pay in India.

Captain Heathcote, 2nd Battalion Northumberland Fusiliers, has returned to England, and another officer from the battalion is to be sent home for the depôt.

Major W. S. Sinkins, 2nd Battalion, Liverpool Regiment, has obtained an extension of leave in England till September next.

Lieutenant-Colonel N. A. C. Chichester, of the Loyal North Lancashire Regiment, has rejoined from his fifteen months' leave to England and resumed command of the 2nd Battalion (late 81st) at Allahabad.

Captain W. Hailes, B. S. C., who was expected from furlough at the beginning of next month, and under orders to relieve Captain Young at Allahabad as Deputy Assistant Quarter Master, has obtained an extension of four months. It is expected that Captain Young will stand fast for the present and not proceed to Peshawar.

Lieutenant-Colonel H. Morton, Second-in-Command of the 40th N. I., who went on furlough in January last year, has obtained a second extension of leave, this time for 111 days, so that he will not rejoin his regiment till next January. Lieutenant-Colonel G. I. Hughes, B. S. C., Commandant, 17th P. N. I., has also obtained an extension, making his furlough 18 months in all. He proceeded on leave in May, 1881, since when Captain Swetenham, the Second-in-Command, has been officiating as Commandant.

The wing of the 37th Regiment, Bengal Native Infantry, which was lately stationed at Debrooghur in support of the troops occupying the advanced posts of Bomghur and Nizamghat, on the Lebong River, N. E. Frontier, has arrived at Chinsura for the purpose of being disbanded. The other wing with the headquarters of the regiment from Buxa, will arrive at Sealdah on Thursday next, the 15th instant, and will be railed the same day from Howrah to Chinsura. With the head-quarters, and the wing from Buxa, are eleven officers, 321 men, and a few women and children. The old barracks at Chinsura have been fully prepared for the reception of the regiment, for the disbandment of which early measures will be taken, and for which the arrangements are nearly completed.—Pioneer.

IT is a remarkable fact, says the Lahore paper' that the two regiments of the Punjab Frontier Force about to be disbanded and which are bad in no respect, are the highest among cavalry and infantry regiments of the Force, respectively, in the order of merit, in the published list of competitors for the Commander-in-Chief's musketry prize. The 4th Punjab Cavalry stands fourth on the list in the Native Cavalry, and the 3rd Punjab Infantry stands third on the list of Native Infantry regiments, 53 competing. Who is responsible "asks our contemporary," for the destruction of these fine regiments? Either this competition means something or it means nothing. If it means that the regiments highest on the list are good regiments, then the 4th Punjab Cavalry and the 3rd Punjab Infantry are very good regiments, in a very important point indeed; and are scarcely the sort of stock which a wise Government will choose to throw away. Is it yet too late to grant these regiments a well-merited reprieve?"

DISBANDMENT OF REGIMENTS.—The Subadar Majors of the eight Madras Regiments to be disbanded have fallen on rather hard lines. In 1864 when the 16th, 22nd, 33rd and 44th Regiments of Native Infantry were disbanded, the Subadar-Majors of these regiments who elected to serve in other corps were allowed to do so with retention of their staff appointment and become supernumerary into a second-class carriage, and that the accused promised to pay the difference of fare for him, which he never did, but changed tickets with him, as before stated. After a short cross-examination, the case for the prosecution was closed. On the court re-assembling this day at 2-30 p.m. the following charges were framed, to which the accused pleaded not guilty:—First, that you, on or about the night of the 4th May, 1882, being in the mail through train running from Madras to Bangalore, and whilst approaching Jollarpett, did, with intent to insult the modesty of complainant, Miss Matilda Lane, touch her arm, offer to supply her with brandy and soda, and your bedding, and also a rupee, hold her hand &c.; and that you further intruded on her privacy by making the said advances whilst she was all the time in the compartment reserved for ladies only, in the said running train, by introducing your hand and the greater part of your body through the window into the said compartment, and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 509 of the Indian Penal Code, and within my cognisance. Secondly, that you, on or about the night of the 4th May, 1882, being in the mail through train running from Madras to Bangalore, and whilst approaching Jollarpett, did, without lawful excuse, interfere with the comfort of the passenger, Miss Matilda Lane, by touching her arm, offering to supply her with brandy and soda, and your bedding, and also a rupee, holding her hand, &c.; and you further by such privacy by making the said advances whilst she was all the time in the compartment reserved for ladies only, in the said running train, by introducing your hand and the greater part of your body through the window into the said compartment, and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 36 of Act IV. of 1879, Railway Act, and within my cognisance." Mr. Davaraja Iyer, advocate for the defence, then applied to the Court for an adjournment to enable him to cite his witnesses, and on his Honour remarking that the defence had had ample time to do so, Mr. Davaraja Iyer replied that he did not think that there was a possibility of the prisoner being charged. His Honour upon this adjourned the further hearing of the case till Monday, the 19th instant, at 1 p. m.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.—In Throat Diseases its efficacy is unequalled. Sir G. Duncan Gibb, Bart., M.D., Physician to the Westminster Hospital, writes: "The value of Dr. de Jongh's Cod Liver Oil as a therapeutic agent in a number of diseases, chiefly of an exhaustive character, has been admitted by the world of medicine; but, in addition, I have found it a remedy of great power in the treatment of many Affections of the Throat and Larynx, especially in Consumption of the latter, when it will sustain life when everything else fails. THE SOUTH-WEST MONSOON.

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORT.

SIMLA, June 16.—The barometer is falling still in the Punjab. The fall extends down the Ganges valley to Bengal, and south to Central India. The pressure is still increasing on the west coast and Sind. In the Punjab the minimum has become less important. The chief minimum is at Benares. The gradients are high and the wind strong to the south-westward. The winds are like yesterday both in the North-West and the Central Provinces. Rain:—Eleven-and-a-half inches at Sutna; six at Jubbulpore; five at Mercara and Akyab; four at Allahabad and Darjeeling; three at Diamond Island; two at Dacca; one at Benares, Roorkee, Sibsagar, and Mangalore; half an inch at Morar, Chittagong, Rangoon, and Colombo. There was no rain to the north of the Bombay Presidency and in the Punjab yesterday; but there were two-and-a-half inches at Mirzapore and two inches at Jaunpore.

BHOSAWAL, June 14.—The monsoon has fairly begun here, and not too soon, as all the wells were becoming dry.

BEEJAPUR, June 12.—The works on the railway line are partially closed, owing to the frequent heavy showers of rain.

AURANGABAD, June 12.—Heavy rain still continues at intervals. The rivers are not fordable. A break is much needed.

BERAR.—Rain is falling in copious showers all over the six districts. In some districts the fall has been heavy, and a break is much wanted by the Kunbis.

AHMEDNAGAR, June 12.—A correspondent writes:—The monsoon this year has come unexpectedly, and without the usual premonitory signs. On the 2nd instant there was a swarm of locusts, fortunately too early to do any damage; then followed a severe duststorm; and finally two good soaking showers of rain fell. Ever since the above date we have had daily falls of rain. The weatherwise Brahmins predict a very heavy fall of rain this season.

BARODA.—A telegram dated yesterday says:—The weather is monsoonish; rainfall pretty fair.

FLOOD AT SURAT.—The waters in the river Taptee at Surat are beginning to rise. Fears are entertained of some parts of the city being flooded. Eight inches and 16 cents of rainfall have been registered at Surat up to date.

A CORRESPONDENT at Mhow, writing to us on the 14th instant, says:—It has been raining in torrents for the last three days and nights, and the thermometer has fallen to 78 F.

POONA.—We have received notice of a terrible rainfall at Kirkee; 14·39 inches registered. The Moola river has risen so high as to overflow the bridge leading from Kirkee to Poona. All traffic is stopped on that road. The railing is washed away. No carriages are allowed to cross the bridge, which is in a dangerous state.—Bombay Catholic Examiner.

THE monsoon seems to have reached the North-West Provinces, as heavy rain is reported from several stations. Upwards of four inches fell in Allahabad on Thursday.

It is satisfactory to know that some of the most influential and ferocious of the ringleaders are amongst those already arrested. But many of those directly concerned in the recent murders have escaped to the hills and will require to be hunted down by the police. Meanwhile, it will probably be necessary to keep a considerable military force in Kalahandi to maintain order. Indeed, it would be unwise to conclude too hastily that order has been finally restored. Though the Khonds are cowardly enough, and have been overawed by a comparatively trifling display of force, yet they are an excitable and uncertain people; and a fresh outbreak ought not, too hastily, to be considered altogether improbable. This quiet may be but a lull in the storm; and it would be well to be prepared for any contingency. Further, it is decidedly expedient to have some reserve force, when the police are necessarily scattered in their work of making arrests. It will help to overawe disaffection, and to give time for things to settle down quietly. We are informed that there is no immediate intention of withdrawing the troops from Kalahandi.—Pioneer.

THE BURMESE NEGOCIATIONS.

A VERY considerable amount of speculation is on foot as to the progress and prospects of the negotiations going on at Simla. One paper declares that they are favourable, and gives a synopsis of the main points of the treaty. Another equally well inspired declares that no progress has been made, and that the Burmese are not by any means inclined to make the concessions required of them. Without professing to share the secrets of the oracle, we only say that there is at present very little chance of anything more than a return of the Envoy to Mandalay, where he may possibly represent things in such a way as to induce King Theebaw to modify his instructions and to abate his demands to something reasonable. The fact is, the Government of India has been so courteous that it has simply confirmed and strengthened the false impressions current at Mandalay. The Burmese Government and the Burmese Envoy have an idea that under no circumstances will Mandalay suffer anything worse than being growled at. Of course, the effect of these impressions is to make the King impracticable and the Envoy obstinate. It would be a wise and proper measure if Lord Ripon were now to try a change of tactics. If he were simply to close the negotiations and dismiss the Envoy, the chances are that King Theebaw would begin the process, and in his case the very necessary process, of undeceiving himself. It is not to the dignity of the Government of India to allow matters to come to a dead-lock. It must assert its superiority to such a trumpery little kingdom as that ruled over by King Theebaw, and until this is done, nothing has been done. So long as the diplomatic fiction of equality is kept up, so long will it be found that the Burmese have come to receive, rather than to grant, concessions.—Indian Daily News.

BENGAL.

HYDROPHOBIA.—A native, aged about 26 years, at Sulkeah in Howrah, who was bitten by a pariah dog a few days ago, died of hydrophobia on Sunday last. The man was attacked with fever on Friday last, and on the next day showed the usual symptoms of hydrophobia.—Statesman.

THE WEATHER IN CALCUTTA.—In the month of May last the highest temperature registered at Alipur was 100·3° on the 3rd, whilst in Chauringhi it was 102·8° on the 24th. The lowest temperature was 66·2° at Alipur on the 7th and 67·4° in Chauringhi on the 8th. The rainfall for the month was 5·81 inches at Alipur and 5·55 inches in Chauringhi, the average for the last forty-eight years being 5·40 inches. Rain fell on twelve days in the month, the average number of rainy days for the last 24 years being thirteen.—Englishman.

"STRUCK OIL."—There are at present 2,55,000 cases of kerosine-oil belonging to one firm, and 50,000 cases to another, stacked in Cook & Co.'s yard in Garden Reach, Calcutta. These stacks are trenched round, and a tank which lies a few yards from one of these stacks was almost filled yesterday with kerosine-oil from the leakage of the cases. A Babu in the employ of one of the firms the other day drew off part of the oil and filled 96 cases, each containing six gallons, and there is said to be still in the tank some 200 cases of oil.—Englishman.

THE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION.—Omitting the vernacular and oriental examiners, out of the twelve gentlemen appointed by the Senate of the Calcutta University to conduct the Entrance Examination [illegible] current year, no less that eight are missionaries. This speaks volumes either for the extraordinary ability which the body of missionaries possess—being as they are in such a numerical minority among educationalists—or, for something else. It is noticeable also that not a single Professor, Teacher or Master in a Government College or School has been chosen, which fact, [illegible] their numerical superiority amongst educationalists, also speaks volumes either for their mental and tuitional inferiority—or, for something else. In plain English, it is full time the present method, whereby the appointment of the examiners lies in the hands of three or four resident members of the Calcutta Senate, should absolutely cease. It has become not only an abuse, but a scandal.—Pioneer.

THE LATE MR. W. M. BOURKE.—Many a heart was saddened last Saturday morning by the news that Mr. Walter M. Bourke had been shot in Ireland. Mr. Bourke had been attached to the Calcutta Bar for some years, but he was better known to us as President of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, which office he held for a considerable time with much credit to himself and advantage to the Society. He assisted materially in raising funds for purchasing the premises at Kidderpore now known as St. Vincent's Home, and in various other ways advanced the interests of the Society. As Secretary to the Fancy Fair Committee he laboured hard and very successfully on more than one occasion, and to his indefatigable exertions were due in a great measure the large sums realised in these undertakings for the benefit of Calcutta charities. Mr. Bourke was delegated by the Catholic community to present in person their address of congratulation to His Holiness Pius the IXth on the occasion of his Golden Jubilee. The untimely end, under such painful circumstances, of one who zealously laboured amongst us and for us, and whose exertions on behalf of the poor were untiring, is a matter of sincere sorrow. The Members of St. Vincent's Society, we understand, are arranging to have a Requiem Mass celebrated, at which they will all be present.—Indo-European Correspondence, June 14.

MADRAS.

THE MAHARAJAH OF TRAVANCORE.—The Maharajah of Travancore, with his attendants, is expected at Bangalore on the 21st instant.

A POINTSMAN RUN OVER.—A pointsman belonging to the South Indian Railway Company doing duty at Chingleput was last Tuesday night run over by the No. 8 goods train. He was immediately conveyed to the railway dispensary for treatment, where his leg was amputated, but he died a few minutes after admission.—Madras Athenæum.

BISHOP COLGAN.—A meeting of the Roman Catholics of Madras was to be held yesterday (Sunday), in the Hall of St. Mary's Seminary, with a view to making proper arrangements for the reception of the Right Rev. J. Colgan, D.D., Bishop Elect of Madras, and to presenting him with a suitable address. The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Kernan was expected to preside.

A CHETTY'S OATH.—At the Small Cause Court to-day (Thursday) before His Honour, Mr. P Sreenevassa Row, Second Judge, Gooroosawmy Chetty brought a suit against Vencatasami Chetty, to recover the value of certain goods. The defendant denied the transaction altogether. Plaintiff had no witnesses to substantiate his claim, but said that if the defendant would swear that he never purchased the articles, he would forego his claim. The defendant solemnly affirmed that he never made the purchases. His Honor dismissed the case very much to the chagrin of the plaintiff.—Madras Mail.

A RAILWAY BRIDGE WASHED AWAY.—In consequence of the heavy rains on the Malabar Coast the bridge between the stations of Town and Perfengady, at the 393th mile on the South-West line of the Madras Railway, has been washed away, and passengers and mails are being conveyed across the river in delay of one hour to every train, till such time as the bridge is restored. We learn that the Chief Engineer, Madras Railway, together with Major C. G. Smith, R. E., Deputy Consulting Engineer for Railways, have proceeded by special train to the scene of disaster.—Madras Times.

THE ADAM MEMORIAL AT OOTY.—A public meeting was recently held at the Collector's Office, Dotacamund, to consider the advisability of diverting the fund subscribed for the Adam Memorial Fund from a fountain in the proposed market to the erection of Public Assembly Rooms. The proposition was made Mr. Benson, and was as follows:—

"That the Chairman be requested to communicate with the Secretary to the Adam Memorial Fund, and to ascertain whether the subscribers are willing to devote the purpose of building thereon permanent Assembly Rooms to be called the 'Adam Memorial Assembly Rooms,' the balance of the fund required being raised by debentures or otherwise, as may be hereafter determined. Carried unanimously."—Madras Mail.

A FACETIOUS LOCAL FUND ENGINEER.—We find the following in the last number of one of the District Gazettes of this Presidency, under the heading "Proceedings of Local Fund Board" Read letter No. 52, dated 4th May, 1882, from the Local Fund Engineer, forwarding for sanction an estimate amounting to Rs. 0-0-2 10/81 for filling in a rut on the roadway of bridge." Of course the Local Fund Board didn't see the joke, and they resolved "to return the estimate to the Local Fund Engineer with an expression of their disapproval, and a request that he will take care that such trifling estimates are not submitted in future." Yet the Local Fund Board in question insist on their Engineer submitting for their approval estimates for every item of expenditure before the work be put in hand by him!—Madras Mail.

MADRAS COAST DEFENCES.—We published a few days ago a paragraph regarding the coast defences of Madras. Captain Hildebrand, R. E., the Secretary of the Defence Committe, has represented that some experiments are being made in England regarding the best method of loading heavy guns, and the style of carriage suitable for them, and has requested that operations may be stayed till the question has been decided. This request, however, has not met with the approval of Sir Frederick Roberts. His Excellency has given as his opinion that changes in "war materiel" are continually taking place, and to wait a final decision would leave Madras in a manner, as it were, defenceless to meet an attack from ships armed with guns of heavy calibre. Sir Frederick Roberts has therefore urged that the construction of batteries for mouting 12-ton guns for the defence of Madras be undertaken at once. It will be remembered that some time ago the 12-ton batteries on the sea front were sanctioned by the Secretary of State for India. Three of these have been constructed, viz., Clive's Battery, Lighthouse Battery and the South Beach Battery. The remaining three, Sir Frederick Roberts recommends, are to be begun at once, notwithstanding the experiments being tried in England.—Madras Times.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use the Mexican Hair Renewer, for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed." Ask your Chemist for "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," sold by Chemists and Perfumers everywhere at 3s. 6d. per Bottle. Sold wholesale by the Anglo-American Drug Co., Limited, 33, Farringdon-road, London.

THE HEBANAAD MASSACRE.

AFTER a very careful and exhaustive enquiry-Mr. W. Clarke, Barrister-at-Law, Sub-Judge and First Class Magistrate of the Nilgiris, has committed the whole of the prisoners in this case to take their trial before the Sessions Court. On Monday, the 5th instant, nine of the prisoners were put up before Mr. Clarke; but as the tenth prisoner, the Monygar of the Seroor village, was not able to be brought into Court, in consequence of ill ness, the Magistrate remanded the case to Thursday. The prosecution was conducted by Mr. Shortt, Chief Inspector of Police. From the evidence adduced, it would appear that on the night of the 30th April last, a Kurumber was murdered in the village of Seroor, his wife and three children forcibly taken together with the corpse of the murdered man to the burning ground of the Hebanaad village, there stabbed with a sharp pointed bamboo, and all five bodies burnt. The murders, it is said, emanated from superstition. The Kurumbers are very much dreaded by all the tribes of the Nilgiris excepting the Todas, and are supposed to be necromancers, and each Badaga village has its own Kurumber to keep off the evil eye of other Kurumbers. It is further believed, that deaths are only caused by Kurumber influence. The Badaga village of Hebanaad employed the Kurumber of the Seroor village for this purpose. As several deaths amongst the Badagas of the village had occurred, the villagers believed that the Kurumber, instead of protecting, was killing them by witchcraft, and determined to rid themselves of him and his family. None of the hill tribes will kill a Kurumber until a Toda has struck the first blow; but as soon as his sanctity has been violated by the hand of a Toda, they complete the murderous work. In this case, the two first prisoners are Todas, and it is alleged that they were employed by the Badagar prisoners to give the first blow. The Monygar of Seroor, the tenth prisoner, a Badaga, is supposed to have organized the massacre; but there is no evidence to show that he took an active part in the tragedy. He was only seen at the burning ground on the night in question. Certain Froolers of the Seroor village depose to having been that night alarmed by cries, and say that they watched the whole of the proceedings, and then fled to the jungles. The brother-in-law of the deceased deposes to having reported the disappearance of the Kurumber and his family to Mr. Vernede, a planter at Kotagherry, and an Honorary Magistrate, who gave information to the police, which led to Mr. Franks, the Inspector of the Wellington Division, proceeding to Seroor, and arresting the prisoners, who were pointed out to him by the first witness for the prosecution. One of those who took part in the murders was not arrested by Mr. Franks, as he was very ill, and has since died. In consequence of the serious illness of the tenth prisoner, the enquiry on Monday last was held by Mr. Clarke in St. Bartholomew's Hospital. The whole of the prisoners, as stated above, have been committed on the following charges:—

1st, 2nd and 3rd prisoners culpable homicide amounting to murder, and abetment of murder, under Sections 302 and 109 of the Indian Penal Code. The 4th, 5th, and 7th prisoners with murder and abetment of murder. The 6th, 8th, 9th, and 10th prisoners with abetment of murder.

It is not yet known whether the case will be sent down to Coimbatore for trial, or whether the Sessions will be held here by the Coimbatore District Judge, as Mr. Barlow, the Additional Sessions Judge of this district is not empowered to try cases punishable with death. Mr. Willie Grant, Barrister-at-Law, Messrs. Cowdell, Woolly, and Winterton, Solicitors, and Messrs. Hereford and Davis, Pleaders, have been retained for the defence. Mr. Davis watched the case on behalf of the prisoners of the Magistrate's Court.—Madras Mail.

CARLTON WHISKEY,
ELEVEN YEARS OLD.
Same as supplied to the Carlton and other London Club Houses.

THESE GRAND OLD WHISKIES are shipped only by RICHARD MATHEWS AND COMPANY, of London and Inverness, who are sole possessors of the Brand "CARLTON." They are distilled from the finest Highland Malt only, are in every respect equal to the finest Brandy, and guaranteed to be entirely free from Fusel Oil or other noxious impurities.

The following Testimonial has been received from the Secretary of the "CARLTON" CLUB.

CARLTON CLUB, 1875,
December 20.

MESSRS. R. MATHEWS & COMPY.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your inquiry as to whether the Whiskey you are supplying to this Club is approved by the Members, the best answer I can give is that the consumption of this spirit in the Club has GREATLY INCREASED since it has been supplied by your Firm. There can be no doubt whatever about the Whiskey being MOST EXCELLENT.

It is old and soft, and I may safely say that it is much approved by the Members.

CAUTION.—It has come to the knowledge of the shippers of the "CARLTON" WHISKIES that the empty bottles have been dishonestly refilled with the poisonous trash very often sold in India under the name of Whiskey, this is therefore to caution consumers to carefully examine the Capsules and Corks to see they have not been tampered with; also that the Corks, Capsules, and Labels are branded with Trade Mark.
